Love is in the air.

___/___

A Game of Hide and Seek

Look what you found! It is not a bill,
Or a "to-do" list left on the sill.
It is a secret, a nudge, and a wink,
To give you a moment to stop and to think.

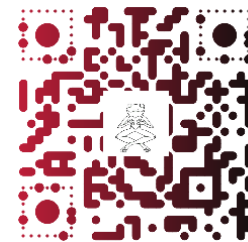

Where is the kid with the grass on their knees?
The one who could talk to the birds and the trees?
The one who saw magic in puddles and dirt,
Before "being busy" began to feel like work?

They are still in there, just hiding away,
Waiting for you to come out and play.
They don't care about titles or things you have bought,
They just want the wonder that you might have forgot.

So, lean in quite close, like a game of pretend,
And find the old spark of your very best friend.
The child you were is still ready to hear,
The things that you whisper when nobody is near.

The Exercise

1. The Witness: Read the poem on the left out loud. Notice how it feels to be seen by your own eyes.
2. The Connection: Scan the code below. Send a video message to the number provided. Imagine you are talking to yourself at age seven. What does that child need to hear from you today?
3. The Map: The chatbot will ask for your name, age, zip code, and the card number below. This helps us track the journey of this love across the map.
4. The Ripple: This card is yours to release. Pass it on to a friend or leave it in a place where it can be found by the person who needs it most.
